1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-22	YES

Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-22	YES

D1: US6359880 B1

D2: US5953322 A

D3: US2002-0075850 A1

D4: KR2003-369803 B

D1 is considered to represent the closest prior art.

D1 discloses a public wireless internet gateway system providing voice telephone access to a public packet data network, such as the Internet. When a mobile handset initiates a call, the gateway system, including HDR(home location register) servers and domain name servers, temporarily assigns IP address to the handsets, which are translated into specific names. The gateway system manages voice signals in packet form through the network. In addition to providing telephone communication channels between handsets, the wireless gateway system manages the handoff and switching operations. Similarly, the wireless internet system of this invention also generates temporary IP addresses and provides them to users' terminals. Voice signals are transmitted and switched via a wireless network by base stations of Claim 1-12. Additionally, the steps and handset of D1 also disclose the features claimed in claims 13-22.

Thus, the subject matter of Claims 1-22 is not inventive.
